DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract needs to be on a separate paper. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sano et al (5664763) in view of Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273).
 - a. Sano discloses the claimed invention except for a fiber sealing unit.
 - b. Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273) discloses a device having a fiber sealing unit with a Teflon insulated coupling and Nonaka teaches that

Art Unit: 3723

Teflon has fibers which are used as an alternative coupling using alternative materials.

c. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Sano et al device by providing a Teflon fiber insulated coupling as taught by Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273) which are used as an alternative coupling using alternative materials.

5. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baker (6364290) in view of Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273).

d. Baker discloses the claimed invention except for a fiber sealing unit.

e. Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273) discloses a device having a fiber sealing unit with a Teflon insulated coupling and Nonaka teaches that Teflon has fibers which are used as an alternative coupling using alternative materials.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Baker device by providing a Teflon fiber insulated coupling as taught by Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273) which are used as an alternative coupling using alternative materials.

6. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rivard (6402123) in view of Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273).

f. Rivard discloses the claimed invention except for a fiber sealing unit.

g. Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273) discloses a device having a fiber sealing unit with a Teflon insulated coupling and Nonaka teaches that

Art Unit: 3723

Teflon has fibers which are used as an alternative coupling using alternative materials.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Rivard device by providing a Teflon fiber insulated coupling as taught by Kipnes (3525973) and Nonaka et al (5328273) which are used as an alternative coupling using alternative materials.
